Closing Remarks, Flight Surgeon Refresher Course

Congratulations!!

You have successfully completed the Flight Surgeon Refresher Program! You are now ready for any mission given to you. Use your resources: the website, the reference library, and the subject matter experts to insure your success as a Flight Surgeon. You are a key member of the Aviation Medicine team!

You have one more step before you can receive credit for this refresher program. You must log on to the Army Learning Management System (ALMS) to take the short online examination. Once you've completed this exam, you will be able to print your certificate of completion online. Upon completion of the exam, you will also be given information about how to apply for Continuing Medical Education (CME) credit for this program.

You will need to Logon to the Army Learning Management System (ALMS). For logon procedure for the ALMS, please visit the USASAM website.

Please do not hesitate to contact us at the US Army School of Aviation Medicine, if you have any questions as you get back into the practice of Aviation Medicine.

You are of course welcome to attend our resident Aviation Medicine Orientation Course if you feel that you need more hands on instruction on this material and can find time to get away from your command.

If you run into trouble with Flight Physicals, Waiver submissions, or the AERO system (including password applications), please contact AAMA for assistance.

You'll find both organizations through our web site:

Application for the Army Flight Surgeon Badge

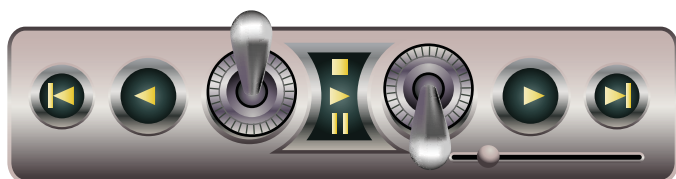

If you are a qualified Flight Surgeon (completed a recognized Flight Surgeon training program) in the US Navy, US Air Force, or US Coast Guard, you are eligible for the Army Flight Surgeon Badge after completing this refresher course. You will need to send documentation of completion along with your original designation orders/certificate to us at USASAM.

Please call us and we will walk you through the process, and send you back your orders!!!

Thanks again for taking the time to complete this valuable training!

-KEEP 'EM FLYING!
